ATKINSON
PIONEER OREGON EDUCATOR

DONALD J. SEVETSON
DEDICATED TO
OUR GRANDCHILDREN
JESSICA, IAN, AND CLARA
Autumn, 2011
“EDUCATION IS IMPORTANT”
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Foreword ................................................. vii
Introduction ............................................. 1

I – PREPARATION AND JOURNEY TO OREGON
One A Time of Major Change ......................... 5
Two New England Roots ................................. 11
Three From the Northeast to the Northwest ........ 25

II – THE OREGON CITY YEARS
Four Settling in Oregon City ......................... 37
Five Early Years of Ministry .......................... 55
Six To the East to Tell the Story .................... 73
Seven Foundations of Free Schools ................ 87
Eight A Flood Forces a Move ....................... 103

III – A PORTLAND CHURCH, AND COUNTY SCHOOLS
Nine A Band of Brothers and Sisters ............... 127
Ten A Visionary Superintendent ..................... 147
Eleven A Question of Honesty ....................... 165

IV – REGIONAL LEADER IN COMMUNITY AND CHURCH
Twelve Informing the Public ......................... 185
Thirteen The Portland High School Controversy of 1880  . 201
Fourteen Pain and Progress at Pacific University .... 215
Fifteen Educational Efforts in Washington ........ 227
Sixteen A New Era Begins ............................. 239
Seventeen “He Saw the Possibilities” ............... 257
Appendix Congregational Mission Societies ........ 261

Bibliography ............................................. 267
Index ................................................... 277