International Librarianship, Part I

International. Librarianship. Two concepts that together form an intriguing and significant area of library endeavor. All over the world, the importance of literacy and the dissemination of information are recognized, and the crucial role of libraries and librarians in accomplishing those goals is incontestably acknowledged.

We eagerly seized the opportunity to share with OLA Quarterly readers the wide range of experiences available to librarians beyond our borders, not only as visitors, but as participants in library programs as well. We hope, too, to accent the benefits of international experiences, as well as inform an understanding of similarities and differences in library services in different locales.

This issue, one of two on this topic, includes an article by Kathy Greey, Rosalind Wang, and Frances Lau that summarizes the history of the Oregon State Library-Fujian Provincial Library exchange, and also one by Brian Williams who offers a personal perspective on his exchange in Fuzhou and Quanzhou, China. Faye Powell’s experiences working with Indian libraries, and enticing visits to libraries in Ireland by Bonnie Hirsch, and in Kenya and Scotland by Heather McNeil are also detailed and described in this issue.

Richard Sapon-White has written a bibliographic essay that details excellent sources for more information on international librarianship programs and more, as well as an article about Pamoja, an intercultural, library-focused, simulation game. And, as an example of an international experience that doesn’t require a passport, Paula Germond has written a poem based on her work with Middle Eastern students attending Marylhurst College.

We hope that reading this issue will inspire you to have an international library adventure of your own and that you will come away with a heightened awareness of the challenges faced by the international and multicultural users of our libraries.
